WASHINGTON, D. C. STAR

e. 276,836 333,883 S.

Edit Other Page Page

Date: SEP 1 1964

End of Tax Exemption Of Hunt Fund Urged

By LEE M. COHN Star Staff Writer

Representative Patman. Democrat of Texas, pressed the Internal Revenue Service today to revoke the tax exemption privileges of a foundation run by H. L. Hunt, the controversial Texas oil millionaire.

Mr. Patman, chairman of a House Small Business Subcommittee investigating foundations, charged that Mr. Hunt's Life Line Foundation had He said there is a flat prohibi- activity also may be vulnerable abused its tax exemption by tion against such organizations if the foundation fails to present engaging in political propaganda instead of education.

Bertrand M. Harding, acting commissioner of IRS, testified at a subcommittee hearing that the case of Life Line-formerly called Facts Forum-still is under investigation.

1962 Recommendation

The subcommittee turned to Mr. Hunt's activities after dropping an inquiry into the The laws become Central Intelligence Agency's relations with the J. M. Kaplan Fund of New York, another taxexempt foundation.

Line Foundation's tax exemption be revoked on grounds that legislation. its activities were political rather than educational.

Mr. Patman said Life Line define "substantial."

Mr. propagandized on such Mr. Rogovin said a foundation renewal, farm programs, medtaxes and welfare programs.

of conservative causes.

Mitchell Rogovin, Mr. Har- It is possible, he added, to ding's assistant, outlined the take a stand on an issue without difficulties of interpreting and clearly advocating or opposing applying the vague laws against specific legislation.

backing a candidate in a politi-opposing arguments. cal campaign. President John Mr. Rogovin said 24 tax-examendment to a 1954 tax bill.

foundations that have worked to ities. defeat candidates for Congress. but mentioned no names and did not indicate he was referganda not involving support of a political candidate, Mr. Rogovin said. He said a foundation may ing that 114 individuals and ing to the records.

stances, regardless of the question of substantiality.

Methods Said Key

The key is whether the foundation's methods are educational, he said. It is all right, he indicated, to take a stand on an icare, racial integration, income issue if it is backed up by facts and if the public is given a full Mr. Hunt is a noted advocate and fair exposition of the pro and con arguments.

applying the vague laws against political and propaganda activities by tax-exempt organizations.

Flat Prohibition

If the foundation's viewpoint is presented as pure opinion unsupported by facts, Mr. Regovin said, the education pursupported by facts are proving the said the He said there is a flat prohibi-son, then a Texas Senator empt organizations now are sponsored this ban as an under investigation by IRS on questions involving possible Mr. Patman said he knows of political and propaganda activ-

May Call Hunt

Mr. Hunt as a witness after the commentator, and Mr. Hunt. The laws become even less subcommittee staff has comclear on the subject of propa-pleted analysis of Life Line's lose its tax exemption if a organizations contributed $273, Baltimore recommended in 1962 "substantial" part of its activi- 691—presumably tax-deductible and again in 1963 that the Life its involve propaganda or for subscriptions to Facts attempts to influence specific Forum News from 1954 through 1956. That averages about $2,400 Mr. Patman said later that per donor, although the annual; legislation may be needed to subscription price ranged from $2 to $3.

Among the listed contributors nad propagandized on such is. Rogovin said a foundation Among the listed contributors issues as the nuclear test-ban is within its rights to express a to Life Line were Continental treaty, aid to education, Fed-viewpoint on controversial Supply Co. of Dallas, $35,000; treaty, aid to education, Fed-viewpoint on controversial Supply Co. of Dallas, $35,000; First National Bank, of Dallas, $33,000; Mr. Hunt, $100,000; Pacid Oil Co. of Shreveport, La., $23,489; Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, $780, and Sears, Roebuck & Co., $2,000.

In addition to contributions for subscriptions, the records showed 34 donors contributed $3,049,703 to Life Line from 1951 through 1960.

Among these donors were matters in certain circum-Gulf Oil Corp., $22,864, and Mr. Hunt personally, $2,928,500. These contributions were tax deductible.

Life Line's financial records for 1951 through 1963 showed total receipts of $5.1 million, administrative and operating expenses of $4.9 million, charitable contributions of $1,000 and awards and scholarship grants totaling $47,268.

Charitable Contributions

Charitable contributions received during those years, not counting donations for subscriptions, totaled $3,082,598, and other gross income totaled $2,-046,488.

Included in gross income was $1,241,000 received from television, radio and publishing activities.

Those listed as receiving reimbursement for travel expenses from 1954 through 1957 included Karl Hess of Dallas, presumably the man who now is an adviser and speech writer Senator Goldwater; Dr. Fred C. Schwarz, an Australian who conducts anti-communism schools here and abroad; Dan Mr. Patman said he may call Smoot, a conservative radio

Total assets of Life Line and its predecessor, Facts Forum, increased from $2,500 in 1951 to $176,010 last September, accord-